Chapter 1

Educational Psychology: A Foundation for Teaching

Multiple Choice Questions

1) Which of the following is an accurate statement about the role of educational psychology in teacher preparation?

a) Educational psychology is the study of learning theory as it relates to aspects of education outside of the classroom

b) Educational psychology aims to improve teacher candidates' subject matter knowledge

c) Educational psychology provides teachers with specific actions to improve classroom teaching

d) Educational psychology provides teachers with research-based principles to guide their teaching

- 2) Effective teaching occurs best when a teacher is prepared with:
 - a) Knowledge of subject matter and students' background information.
 - b) Subject matter and school expectations
 - c) Knowledge of subject matter and the skills to share that knowledge
 - d) Knowledge of subject matter, enthusiasm, and a positive attitude

3) According to our text, pedagogy is the link between which of the following?

- a) What the teacher desires students to learn and students' actual learning
- b) What the teacher knows and is able to communicate to the students
- c) What students desire to learn and what the teacher has knowledge of
- d) What the teacher says and demonstrates thoughtfully to students.

4) In addition to being able to carry out the many tasks of teaching, these traits are essential in good teachers:

- a) A quick wit and great comedic timing
- b) An analytical mindset for numeric problem solving
- c) Warmth, enthusiasm, and caring
- d) A fiery temperament

Copyright © 2018, 2015, 2012. Pearson Education, Inc. All rights reserved.

- 5) Intentional teachers are constantly thinking about:
 - a) The outlooks they want for their students and assessments of outlooks
 - b) What goals they and their students are trying to accomplish
 - c) The ratio of student to teacher
 - d) The faculty meeting agenda
- 6) Teacher efficacy is the degree to which teachers do what?
 - a) Believe they are able to build rapport with colleagues
 - b) Make effective decisions regarding student learning outcomes
 - c) Believe their own efforts determine their students' success
 - d) Believe the efficacy of student outcomes is curriculum based
- 7) How do intentional teachers achieve a sense of efficacy?
 - a) By continually assessing their instruction results and trying new strategies if initial instruction doesn't work
 - b) By reviewing a student's IQ scores and making predictions about success or failure
 - c) By focusing on home life factors that impact the student at school
 - d) By continually assessing the crime rate and unemployment rates for their community
- 8) Research finds that one of the most powerful predictors of a teacher's impact on students is:
 - a) Teacher candidate ACT scores
 - b) The teacher's rank in high school standing
 - c) The teacher's ability to use technology
 - d) The teacher's belief that what he or she does makes a difference

9) For many years, each state in the United States has had its own standards, which are expectations of what each child should know and be able to do in a given subject matter at a given age. These standards are referred to as:

- a) Common Core State Standards
- b) Department of Teacher Educator Standards
- c) Gold Standards
- d) Creative Curriculum

Copyright © 2018, 2015, 2012. Pearson Education, Inc. All rights reserved.

Slavin, Educational Psychology, Test Bank Chapter 1

10) Assessments intended to indicate how students are moving toward success in college and careers are based on:

- a) Partnership Standards
- b) College- and Career- Ready Standards
- c) Gold Standards
- d) OSHA Standards
- 11) The aim of research in educational psychology is:
 - a) To test the theories that guide the actions of those involved in education
 - b) To assess behaviors that occur in the classroom during instruction
 - c) To identify learning styles and preferences exhibited by students
 - d) To test principles of education used in planning learning outcomes
- 12) Research-based professional development opportunities offer teachers:
 - a) Traditional approaches to education
 - b) Innovative methods that have yet to be evaluated
 - c) Methods known to make a difference in children
 - d) Approaches to a fast-track to learning
- 13) According to our text, to become an intentional teacher you must first:
 - a) Finish an approved PhD program
 - b) Become a certified teacher
 - c) Conduct an action research study
 - d) Attend graduate school
- 14) One way toward becoming an intentional teacher in your beginning years is to:
 - a) Practice teaching in front of a mirror instead of spending time away at workshops
 - b) Seek a mentor who is an intentional teacher to guide you and share ideas with you
 - c) Discourage others from observing you so you do not become inhibited
 - d) Keep confidential your successes and failures