

Online Instructor's Manual
with Test Item File to accompany

Criminal Investigation

Eighth Edition

James N. Gilbert

Prentice Hall

Upper Saddle River, New Jersey
Columbus, Ohio

MULTIPLE CHOICE

- 1-1. The English author who first introduced the term “detective” in his novel, Bleak House, was:
- a. Allan Pinkerton
  - b. Thomas Byrnes
  - c. Arthur Conan Doyle
  - d. Charles Dickens **
  - e. John Keats
- 1-2. The early English thief-catcher who was ultimately executed in 1725 was:
- a. Eugene Vidocq
  - b. Henry Fielding
  - c. Patrick Colquhoun
  - d. Thomas Byrnes
  - e. Jonathan Wild **
- 1-3. English legislation recommended by Sir Robert Peel that created the London Metropolitan Police and early London based criminal investigators was the:
- a. Metropolitan Police Act **
  - b. English Police Bill of 1894
  - c. Amendment of Order
  - d. Parliamentary Reward Act
  - e. Queen’s True Bill
- 1-4. The New York City Chief of Detective’s who became one of the most famous investigators of the 19th Century and developed the technique of modus operandi was:
- a. Allan Pinkerton
  - b. Thomas Byrnes **
  - c. Edward Rucker
  - d. Henry Mayhew
  - e. Francis Tukey
- 1-5. The private detective agency that provided an honest, efficient model for many local police investigators to copy was:
- a. World Eye Incorporated
  - b. Pinkerton Agency **
  - c. Bow Street Agency
  - d. Interpol
  - e. Global Agency