Topic: Business Taxes

- 1.6.23) Consider two firms, Go Debt corporation and No Debt corporation. Both firms are expected to have earnings before interest and taxes of $100,000 during the coming year. In addition, Go Debt is expected to incur $40,000 in interest expenses as a result of its borrowings whereas No Debt will incur no interest expense because it does not use debt financing. However, No Debt will have to pay stockholders $40,000 in dividend income. Both firms are in the 40 percent tax bracket. Calculate the Earnings after tax for both firms. Which firm has the higher after-tax earnings? Which firm appears to have the higher cash flow? How do you account for the difference?

Answer:

| | Go Debt | No Debt |
|------------------------------------|----------------|----------------|
| Earnings before interest and taxes | $100,000 | $100,000 |
| Less: Interest expense | 40,000 | 0 |
| Earnings before taxes | $ 60,000 | $100,000 |
| Less: Taxes (40%) | 24,000 | 40,000 |
| Earnings after taxes | $ 36,000 | $ 60,000 |
| Less: Dividends paid | 0 | 40,000 |

Go Debt has lower earnings after taxes compared to No Debt. However, from a cash outflow perspective, Go Debt paid out a total of only $64,000 ($40,000 in interest expenses plus $24,000 in taxes) while No debt paid out a total of $80,000 ($40,000 in taxes and $40,000 in dividends). The difference between the two is $16,000 which is exactly the difference in taxes paid between the two firms ($24,000 compared to $40,000). This difference results from the fact that interest expense is a tax deductible expense.
